

Charles Heingarten
39th WI Infantry, Company G

Born: 1845 in Baden

Enlisted: 5 May 1864 as a Private from Manitowoc
Mustered Out: 22 September 1864 at Milwaukee, WI

1870 Federal Census: WI, Manitowoc County, Manitowoc/Leopold Besenfelt, shoemaker:
Carl Hongander, 25, Male, Shoe Maker, b Baden

Married: HEINGARTEN: Carl m: 3 Oct. 1870 to Louise Winter, 1847-1920

1875-76 Manitowoc City Directory: Heingarten Charles, shoemaker L. Rosenfeld, res.
corner Hamilton and 13th

1880 Federal Census: WI, Manitowoc County, Manitowoc Ward 1:
Carl Hingarten, 35, Married, Shoemaker, b Baden
Louise Hingarten, 30, Wife, Keeping House, b Baden
Chd: Louise-8, Charly-6, Rosa-4, all b Wisconsin

1890 Veterans Schedule, Manitowoc: HEINGARTEN CHARLES, Pvt 39 G, post office Manitowoc

1895 June 20 Veterans Census of Manitowoc County: Charles Heingarten, Pvt G 39 Infantry, post office Manitowoc

Wisconsin Census Enumeration, 1905 June 1, Ex-Soldiers & Sailors Residing in WI:
Hangarten, Chas., Pvt. Co G, 39th WI Inf., Post office Manitowoc

Died: January 23, 1906

Buried: Calvary Cemetery, Manitowoc, WI

Gravesite: 2-197-L: "Chas./Heingarten/Co. C./39 Wis. Inf."

Father/1845-1906

Mother/1847-1920

Der Nord Westen, 25 Jan. 1906: "CARL HEINGARTEN, SR. Death Tuesday evening of 57-year old Carl Heingarten, Sr., of a brain disease in Holy Family Hospital. The deceased was born 19 September 1848 in Baden and as a boy came to America with his parents, arriving in our city where he has lived since 1857. During the Civil War he served as a volunteer with the 39th Wisconsin Infantry Regiment. In 1870 he married Miss Louise Winter, his now sorrowing widow. Also mourning his passing are 4 children - Carl Heingarten, Jr., of Chicago, Mrs. W. Willinger and Miss Rose and Walter Heingarten here, as well as a brother living in New Orleans, Louisiana, and 2 sisters. The deceased was a shoemaker by trade and for many years operated a shoe store on South Main Street. He was a member of the G.A.R. and of the singing club "Concordia". In his passing the city has lost a respected and beloved citizen and the family has lost a loving husband and father. He was often elected by his fellow citizens to positions of trust and he filled those posts honorably. The funeral will be held Saturday morning from St. Boniface Church."