"Heinrich Thiede, a resident of the South Side, died Thursday morning. He was a veteran of the Civil War, for which service he drew a pension. His well-attended funeral was held Sunday afternoon from the Evangelical Church. He is survived by a widow and several grown children in good circumstances."

Two Rivers Reporter, Saturday, Dec. 13,

1913: "OLD TIMERS - Henry Thiede who had served four years in the Civil war then became married to Mrs. Mandel in 1867. Mrs. Thiede who is in good health at 76 came to this vicinity in 1856 with the entire Schwantes family consisting of six boys, four boys, the father and mother. The father bought a farm of eighty acres a few miles west of here soon after. He was proprietor of a hotel in Pomern, Reggen Walde, Germany where Mrs. Thiede was born. To satisfy his children who did not like the business he sold out for a good price and they emigrated to America. Left alone during the war with her two babies Fred and Henry who are now upright citizens of this vicinity, Fredericka went back to live with her father on his farm. The Schwantes boys, Carl, August, Fred and William had all gone to the war and she and her sister helped harvest the crops and did all they could to take their place. There was much work to do. And besides, they made home spun garments which they gave in exchange for help in farm work from the neighbors. The Thiedes lived on a farm a few miles north of this city for eight years and then sold out and took up their residence in Two Rivers. Here the family has since resided. Since the death of Mr. Thiede eight years ago Mrs. Thiede has lived with her son Ernst, contractor.
